Wax + Plywood + Parametric Surface
Small Box Retail Renovation

Kyle Talbott
University of Wisconsin
Student work by: Dan Hesketh

This plywood cladding project explores the tension between material fabrication and parametric control. The student performed experiments to discover latent properties of plywood, which were then used to drive the design.